CEOCFO: Mr. Jung, what is the focus at Copper Creek today?

Mr. Jung: Copper Creek Gold is a junior exploration company that is exploring for minerals primarily in the central/north west part of British Columbia in the Eskay Creek area. That is where Barrick Gold had their Eskay Creek mine, one of the richest, purest, one of the highest grade gold mines in Canada and the fifth largest silver producer in the world, which was closed in 2008.

CEOCFO: What about the specific property?

Mr. Jung: We have 2000 hectares of claims up in the area called the Bonsai Claim, and we embarked on a very aggressive exploration program. In June we did some IPs ad EM, worked on it and we delineated ten to sixteen drill hole targets We are onto our ninth and tenth hole right now. So we are currently drilling in that area.

CEOCFO: Are you finding what you expected to find?

Mr. Jung: We are surprised, but very pleased with what we have. Our drill cores are in for assays right now at ALS Chemex in North Vancouver here, and we would hope to get a result in about two to three weeks.

CEOCFO: What attracted you to that particular property?

Mr. Jung: It is close to Barrick Gold's Eskay Creek mines, one of the highest grade gold mines anywhere in the world. My partner Jim Anderson actually had access to it and we decided to spend the money on it. So we raised funds for exploration and growth.

CEOCFO: What is the financial picture like for Copper Creek Gold today?

Mr. Jung: The company has about $1.6 million in the bank. We will be using most of that on this summer's aggressive drilling program.

CEOCFO: Have you tried to raise additional funds or do you plan to raise funds?

Mr. Jung: Maybe at a later stage. Right now, we are fully funded.

CEOCFO: Is there much interest in general in the specific area you are in?

Mr. Jung: Oh absolutely! In the area we are in, there is going to be between $35 and $40 million spent on exploration.

CEOCFO: Are you looking at any additional properties?

Mr. Jung: Absolutely! We are continuing to look for properties in the continental North America, which includes Canada, US, and Mexico. The hot areas are really northwest B.C. where we are, in Eskay Creek area, and the Yukon. So we are in the right area.

CEOCFO: When you look at new projects, what is it that you are looking for?

Mr. Jung: We are looking for the Blue Sky, the home run hit. Being a junior exploration company you don't have the capability to go after development properties. So, you go in gradually and start doing what you need to do to find it and that is what we do. We look at the geology and what type of work that was done in the past. There are lots of criteria we use.

CEOCFO: As far as your work on the ground, are there any new techniques that you may employ that not everyone else is doing?

Mr. Jung: Yes, EM or Electro Magnetic techniques have been around for a while, and we have been using the MMI, Mobile Metal Ion surveys.

CEOCFO: What is your personal sense of where gold is going?

Mr. Jung: We are very encouraged. We agree with all of the analysts who feel that in three years gold will be at $3000. But who really knows, lots of things could happen.

CEOCFO: Why should potential investors pick Copper Creek Gold Corp. out of the crowd?

Mr. Jung: We have an opportunity here to hit a home run. Where else can you get .15 cents stock and have the potential for $100. If the results come out like we are hoping, we feel very confident that we will get mineralization with very positive results.
