Warning: the coronavirus is endemic

The coronavirus is not just a pandemic, it is endemic. Endemic means it is here to stay. The seasonal flu, malaria and HIV are examples of endemic diseases. We better get used to living with the coronavirus forever. The ability this virus has to mutate is a factual phenomenon.

Two billion people could lose their jobs worldwide within 3 years

It's estimated that COVID-19 will cost the United States $16 trillion dollars. What about the price tag to the rest of the world, Europe, Asia, South America etc.? Two billion people could be living in poverty worldwide within 3 years

http://www.xinhuanet.com/english/2020-10/13/c_139436698.htm

The velocity of money is the rate at which people spend money and how fast it changes hands. The faster the velocity of money the stronger the economic growth. A person who receives a wage, gets paid and goes to a restaurant or a shopping mall and purchases goods and services with their money from another person who also receives a wage and will go out and use their money to purchase goods and services. This is a healthy economic cycle and a good measurement of the health of the economy. When money is not changing hands rapidly the economy may be contracting. COVID-19 has affected the velocity of money and may bring some additional major industries to a near standstill.

The economic ripple effect of COVID-19

The travel industry is almost dead. People are flying much less, leading airlines to drastically reduce the amount of flights. Reduced travel means lots of hotels with many empty rooms. Transportation is suffering as people are traveling shorter distances than before. Many are working from home or have lost their jobs, which means they are spending far less money on gasoline, oil, car repairs and maintenance, and there is no need for them to buy new cars. Not going to an office everyday means offices are closing at a record pace and many buildings have lots of unrented office space. Empty offices means far less people are going out to eat which leads to restaurants closing in large numbers. Many of those restaurants will never be reopening. There is a huge reduction in spending on luxury goods and cosmetic since there is no one to show off to or dress up for. Shopping malls are bleeding stores and customers. Many of them are shutting down altogether. The housing market continue to suffer huge losses despite the lowest mortgage interest rates in decades making future projections for the housing market bleak. We are in the West are likely to lose the lion's share of the two billion jobs estimated to be lost. This list can go on and on forever. So many jobs and industries are interconnected and when one industry suffers a direct hit, others indirectly suffer just as much or more.

Drastic times call for drastic measures. Many people may need to make big lifestyle changes. Throughout most of civilized history the average person was involved in agriculture, cultivating their own food on a small plot of land. Many people need to get back to that and become more self-sufficient and less dependent on industries for their most necessities.

What is the solution?

First, governments cannot continue wantonly printing money when there is still no real solution to the virus. Economists need to rethink the economy and come up with new strategies that will replace these rapidly disappearing industries with new industries in order to fill the gaps and the millions and millions of lost jobs caused by the pandemic. Many million more job losses may be coming faster than we can blink. The lost jobs need to be replaced quickly to minimize the damage and keep people employed. Countries need to strengthen their police and military and prepare for civilian revolts. When people are not able to feed their families, they will revolt.

Second, an effective therapeutic solution to deal with COVID-19 and its symptoms is needed.

Third, the only way to climb out of this hole is having everyone tested every three days. Read my previous articles and see the specific plans I have laid out.

These drugs do not work according to the WHO Solidarity Trial Results

<https://www.who.int/news/item/15-10-2020-solidarity-therapeutics-trial-produces-conclusive-evidence-on-the-effectiveness-of-repurposed-drugs-for-covid-19-in-record-time>

A study conducted by the WHO shows that several repurposed antiviral drugs were not effective in the treatment of the coronavirus in their study. The study concluded, “These Remdesivir, Hydroxychloroquine, Lopinavir and Interferon regimens appeared to have little or no effect on hospitalized COVID-19, as indicated by overall mortality, initiation of ventilation and duration of hospital stay.”

Pharmaceutical companies need to stop manipulating the science for their profits. The EU is set to pay $1.2 billion for a 6-month supply of Remdesivir. They would be better off flushing them down the toilet before causing harmful side effects to patients. Big pharma is all about making money and the system is hiding the aiding and abetting them. It is a medical farce and a sham

I have also been called overly dramatic by some of my critics. I do not hide the fact that I despise socialism and communism in all its forms. But I also support the idea that the medical system should be freely available to every citizen, whether they are rich, poor or middle class. I feel the same way about education. University education and technical school training should be available for everyone, not just those that can afford it.

Idiotic, Incompetent, Frustrating, Stupid and Total Madness

The economy must be reopened completely, and we need to give up on the delusion of a COVID-19 vaccine. As I have been saying for months, there will not be a safe vaccine, and results from the ongoing vaccine trials backs my assertions.

- AstraZeneca vaccine trials remain on hold leaving their participants in limbo.

- Johnson & Johnson has paused clinical trials after a volunteer came down with a serious unexplained illness.
- Eli Lilly's vaccine trials were paused by the US amid safety concerns.
- Both Moderna and Pfizer have reported that some participants in their vaccine trials have experienced serious side effects.
- In spite of having participants come down with serious side effects, Pfizer just announced they are expanding their vaccine trials to include children as young as 12 years old.
- The Russian vaccine dubbed Sputnik V has had its trial data called into question by experts. There is growing concern about the safety of the vaccine amid allegations of data suppression regarding serious side effects.

When I wrote my first COVID-19 op-ed in February of this year, I expressed doubts that a vaccine could be developed within a short period of time. By April, we had learned enough about the virus that I knew a vaccine was never going to happen. From that time until now, all the research and data has further confirmed the fallacy of ever having a safe coronavirus vaccine. Unfortunately, politicians have been badly advised and thus, have placed all their hopes and efforts into a vaccine solution when in actuality achieving a vaccine solution will be impossible.

Change course

Now we know a vaccine will not be the way to get society back to normal. Accordingly, politicians need to switch the focus of their efforts for vaccine development to continuous rapid testing and a therapeutic solution that will be far more effective than what is currently available. We must be prepared to face the next pandemic; a COVID-20, or a mutated form of SARS or MERS etc.

I was often criticized for telling the world in the articles I was writing, that the vaccine story is a con job, but I stand firmly by my previous assertions. In one article I called the money grab by the pharmaceutical companies a “con-demic.” There never has been and there never will be a safe vaccine for any coronavirus. Instead of stealing taxpayer money for a vaccine that will never work, the focus needs to be on therapeutic drug solutions. We cannot be paralyzed waiting for a magic cure. It will come, but in time.

Recently, a Nevada man became the first confirmed case of COVID-19 reinfection in the United States. Sadly, his reinfection was more severe than the original. I also said in a previous op-ed that this would be the case. Without neutralizing antibodies, non-neutralizing antibodies can serve to transport the virus through the body much more rapidly, thus making a subsequent infection often more severe than the original. Additionally, without neutralizing antibodies we will never be able to achieve herd immunity and coronavirus vaccines could be deadly. The coronavirus is an endemic disease. It will have a constant presence and is not going away. So far it has not faded as many expected but has gotten stronger.

Facebook has just announced a ban on ads that discourage people from getting vaccines. So if anyone tries to warn the public that a COVID-19 vaccine may not be safe to take, Facebook will not allow it. When I warn people about the dangers of a coronavirus vaccine, I am not just sharing an opinion, I am basing my warnings on science. What is Facebook going to do when millions of people begin to experience terrible side effects from a coronavirus vaccine and they banned ads and posts that could have warned of the potential dangers? Are they going to pay victims for their suffering? Facebook and Twitter are not the platforms for free speech they claim to be. They are actively censoring their users and trying to make us conform to their way of thinking and acting. I hope the government will finally take the correct action and remove the protections Facebook and Twitter enjoy under Section 230.

Continuous rapid testing of everyone every three days will allow the economies to reopen

In the meantime, the only solution to return life to normal is by expanding continuous rapid testing. People should be tested every three days and every business should be equipped with a testing machine like a vending machine, capable of conducting a rapid coronavirus test and delivering results in minutes. I explained this in my previous article where I described the Baggio testing machine. Continuous rapid testing will achieve two objectives:

- stop us from fearing the virus
- give us control over the virus by allowing us to return to normal

The World Health Organization finally agrees with President Trump on opening the economies

Even the World Health Organization (WHO) has reversed course on lockdowns. The WHO initially told us that lockdowns were necessary to get the virus under control and would be the new normal. Now they have backtracked and realized lockdowns are ineffective and do much more harm than good.

The United Kingdom and other European countries should cancel their current lockdown plans and replace them with continuous rapid testing of all its population.

Additionally, we need to continue good practices like regular hand washing, maintain social distancing and wearing masks whenever indoors, or whenever near other people when outdoors.

The early European lockdown was a failure

The fact that the President contracted the coronavirus proves this virus has no borders. All the attacks being launched by Democrats accusing President Trump of mishandling the coronavirus are complete rubbish. We need only look towards Europe. European countries were shut down at the onset of the pandemic. Businesses were ordered closed and social distancing and mask wearing was enforced. Today, seven months later most European nations are experiencing a resurgence of COVID-19 cases. Most European countries are now declaring more cases each day than they did during the first wave earlier this year. This completely contradicts those that have chosen to combat the virus by shutting down their economies. This resurgence clearly proves them wrong. It did not work in Europe and will not work in the United States. European countries have had far higher mortality rates than the United States and are once again dealing with a soaring number of cases.

These facts completely undermine the baseless attacks from Joe Biden and his socialist opportunist running mate Kamala Harris that continually blame President Trump for the pandemic deaths in the United States. The numbers clearly show that the Trump administration has handled the pandemic better than any of the G7 nations.

Neanderthal DNA from fifty thousand years ago is linked to severe COVID-19

Stop blaming President Trump; blame the Neanderthal DNA

Neanderthals arose in Europe after pre-humans left the African continent and never made their way back south. As a result, people of European, Asian, and Australasian origin all have at least some Neanderthal DNA, but not people of purely African descent or of Middle Eastern descent.

There is new research that experts need to analyze much more closely. Scientists have found a link between neanderthal genes and severe COVID-19 cases. When researchers compared the genetic profiles of about 3,200 hospitalized COVID-19 patients and nearly 900,000 people from the general population, they found that a cluster of genes on chromosome 3 inherited from Neanderthals who lived more than 50,000 years ago is linked with 60% higher odds of needing hospitalization. According to the Max Planck Institute for Evolutionary Anthropology, COVID-19 patients that had this gene cluster were also more likely to require artificial breathing assistance. The paper titled “The major genetic risk factor for severe COVID-19 is inherited from Neanderthals” was coauthored by Svante Paabo and Hugo Zeberg and published on September 30, 2020.

Paabo and Zeberg wrote, "Here, we show that the risk is conferred by a genomic segment ... that is inherited from Neanderthals and is carried by about 50% of people in South Asia and about 16% of people in Europe today."

In a released statement, Zeberg said, "with respect to the current pandemic, it is clear that gene flow from Neanderthals has tragic consequences."

"The probability that humans who inherited this gene variation have to be put on a ventilator when they contract the novel coronavirus Sars-CoV-2 is three times higher".

"It is alarming that a genetic heritage from the Neanderthals can have such tragic consequences in the current pandemic," Paabo said, stressing that more research should be done immediately. According to the study, the cluster of the gene is most found in Bangladesh, where 63% of the population carry at least one copy of the DNA sequence. 16% of people in Europe today also carry the same gene.

This newly discovered connection could be the reason why people in Europe, the Americas, Asia, India, and Indo-European Iran are more likely to develop a more lethal coronavirus than Africa and the Middle East.

How much Neanderthal DNA is carried today?

It is suggested that 20% of neanderthal DNA survived in modern humans. Today, neanderthal DNA is expressed in hair, skin, and diseases. East Asians seem to have the most neanderthal DNA in their genomes followed by those of European ancestry.

Neanderthal DNA is virtually non-existent in Africa. Neanderthal genes might protect us from some pathogens, while making us more susceptible to others like heart disease.

The now extinct homo neanderthalensis were the ancestors to today's homo sapiens. Neanderthals were hunters on the move, compared to today's domesticated homo sapiens that live settled lives cultivating agriculture and producing food.

People of European and Asian descent should consider having their DNA tested. DNA tests are easily accessible today and having that information would be helpful to know if you are at a higher risk of serious complications from COVID-19. I am sure we will be getting much more information as researchers dig deeper into these initial findings.

Our DNA makes up part of our immune system response gene. This is why large numbers of Americans of European ancestry are contracting covid-19. This is a very important scientific finding that contradicts the Democrat's narrative that it's all Trump's fault. Does this mean the desperate Democrat party will now attack the Max Planck Institute for their findings? Since its founding in 1948 the Max Planck Society can boast 20 Nobel Prize winners from among its ranks. In addition, 15 Nobel Prizes were awarded to scientists from its predecessor organization, the Kaiser Wilhelm Society, between 1914 and 1948.

The Swine Flu infected more than 80 million Americans during the Obama Administration in 2009

Imagine if the coronavirus had hit in the spring of 2009 with the same level of contagion as the Swine Flu. What would the Obama administration have done? Who would they have had to blame?

Ron Klain, a top advisor to Joe Biden and his campaign, who also served as Vice President Biden's Chief of Staff in the White House and led the response to the Ebola outbreak, explained how the Obama administration did "everything wrong" in response to the 2009 swine flu crisis.

"It is purely a fortuity that this isn't one of the great mass casualty events in American history. It had nothing to do with us doing anything right. It was just luck."

<https://www.cdc.gov/flu/pandemic-resources/2009-h1n1-pandemic.html>

The Swine Flu faded out drastically after one year. Conversely, COVID-19 has gotten stronger since it first began in Wuhan. Among the coronavirus mutations so far identified by scientists, the spike D614G mutation seems to be the one that has generated more worry. There is growing concern this mutation has made the virus ten times more contagious and deadlier. Had Joe Biden been the President of the United States during this pandemic, I believe millions of Americans would have died. I am not afraid of the coronavirus, but I am afraid of having Joe Biden in the White House.

"10 held by H for the big guy"

Follow the Money – computers don't lie

- It is simple; find out the bank accounts and trusts of Joe Biden and the Biden Family.
- It is time for the FBI to do their job.

Exactly how did Joe Biden become so wealthy on a senator's salary? Why does the media never ask that question? The latest discovery of thousands of emails taken from a laptop allegedly belonging to Hunter Biden may provide some answers to that question no one is asking. Did the career senator and former vice president make himself and his family millions from kickbacks and corruption by using and peddling his influence? The content of the emails is very damning and points to not only corruption but also possible racketeering. If true, the Biden family used the system to rake in millions from China, Russia and the Ukraine.

The newly discovered emails are public for all to see, except for the fact the mainstream media will not show them, report on them or even ask the “big guy” about them. In his ABC townhall moderated by George Stephanopoulos, former senior advisor to Bill Clinton; what should have been the topic for the lead question never came up once in the entire 90 minutes. And in typical Silicon Valley fashion, Twitter and Facebook censored any positing or sharing of this story which is very damaging to their candidate.

The simple truth is Joe Biden is a corrupt liar. He has betrayed the public trust and become a very wealthy man in the process. He is not fit for office.

Nancy Pelosi is unfit to run the House

This mad 80-year-old grandmother is more qualified to stay home and knit sweaters for her grandchildren than she is to run the House of Representatives. In her deranged hate of President Trump, Pelosi refuses to quit her efforts to remove him from office after her failed attempt using impeachment. On October 9th, the Speaker of the House unveiled proposed legislation to allow congress to intervene under the 25th amendment to the Constitution to remove a sitting president for being unfit. Is Pelosi saying the President is unfit following his battle with COVID-19? The delusional Nancy Pelosi is the one who is unfit for her office. Her expiration date has long since passed.

Her derangement led her to impeach the President on the contrived grounds of a phony “Russian collusion” and put him and the country through hell, squandering millions of taxpayer dollars solely to advance her political agenda to overturn the will of the people.

The recently declassified documents show the truth, that the accusations of President Trump colluding with the Russians was a planned political hoax orchestrated by Hillary Clinton’s campaign with the full support of President Obama and Vice President Biden. James Comey and Obama’s intelligence leaders knew it was a lie but conspired to destroy the newly elected president.

More Democrat Lies

The senate confirmation hearing for Supreme Court Justice Brett Kavanaugh was one of the most despicable and unethical displays of partisan politics and downright dirty political theatre ever seen on the national stage. What the Democrats have done to this good man and his family will come back and haunt them for many years. To call Senate Democrats animals for these actions is an insult to animals. Even animals have greater ethics than what the Democrats displayed in the Kavanaugh confirmation.

The Silent Majority and Silent Democrats

I am sure the Democrats will get the shock of their lives following the upcoming November election. There are millions of silent Democrats that are unhappy with the radical takeover of their party. The Democrat party of John F. Kennedy and Bill Clinton no longer exists. It has been hijacked by the fringe, progressive radicals much to the chagrin of many good, hardworking common, everyday Democrats. I predict that the radical takeover will result in many Democrats voting for a Republican presidential candidate for the first time in their lives. Many African American voters who usually support Democrat candidates are switching their allegiance to President Trump in significant numbers. Polls also show President Trump is polling much higher among Hispanics now than he did in 2016. I predict many Democrats will lose their seats in the House and Senate.

President Trump gets the job done. He truly cares for America first and puts her interests before the rest of the world. ANTIFA, Black Lives Matter, and other violent Marxist organizations are still today enjoying support by Joe Biden and Kamala Harris. The president will win re-election and enjoy a large majority in the Senate and the House.

As a Canadian, I felt Canada was the best country in the world until the young and inexperienced socialist Prime Minister Justin Trudeau took over. Under his leadership, Canada is quickly moving towards socialism and experiencing a rapid decline in the average worker's standard of living. Today in Canada, anyone with a grudge is getting preferential minority group status. The Canadian socialist government recognizes these new minority groups and supports and finances their efforts. The new fringe groups are bleeding the country's wealth and have hijacked freedom of expression. We, the majority now have much less rights than these fringe minority groups.

President Trump is leading by example

President Trump is 74 years old. Just one week after being hospitalized with the coronavirus he addressed his followers from the White House and two days later after that he was on the campaign trail in Florida. His message is clear; we need to stop being afraid of this dreadful virus. The President contracted the virus at the worst possible time, just one month before the election. Many other people would have just given up after such an apparent crushing blow. Not Donald Trump! He is a fighter. He did get a little lucky, but he's a fighter no less.

Sadly, the radical left and the mainstream media are not happy the President has recovered so quickly. They are downright angry. They continue to propagate fear and accuse President Trump of mishandling the pandemic. Some have gone as far as expressing anger towards Walter Reed Military Hospital for curing the President so quickly.

Not to take anything away from the courageous battle President Trump fought and won against COVID-19, he did have a little luck on his side. It is very possible the President was infected with a pre-asymptomatic strain of the coronavirus. If that were the case, the viral load would have been very small. The virus would have just started to establish itself in his system when he began to experience symptoms. He also benefited from being surrounded with the best medical team and being continually tested. They were able to catch and stop the virus before it began to cause real and lasting damage. His doctors administered many different drugs so it's impossible to know exactly which one did the trick.

Would he have been able to recover so quickly if he had experienced a much stronger viral load or was not tested daily? Of course not. The average person like you and me do not have access to daily testing, nor do we have a personal army of the greatest doctors in the world.

So, what would happen to one of us if we were infected with an asymptomatic dose of the virus? Within a week or so we would start to feel much worse. By the time we see a doctor it's possible the deep lung inflammatory cascade could already have started.

Vice President Mike Pence will be the next president following a second Trump term

Mike Pence is a loyal VP and a man who is calmly in control. He floored the ultra-left opportunist Kamala Harris at the recent vice-presidential debate. The Republicans will win big in November. The Trump-Pence team will continue to move America forward and take the country to new economic heights and prosperity in the aftermath of the pandemic. Americans will either vote for the Joe Biden/Kamala Harris depression or the Donald Trump/Mike Pence recovery.

The Jury is still out on the Regeneron antibody drug

President Trump is coronavirus free, and we thank God for that. However, the science still does not conclusively prove that Regeneron's antibody drug is the miracle cure we have all been waiting for.

Two science papers linked below describe the Regeneron antibody cocktail that President Trump received. Monoclonal antibodies bind important domains of the spike protein, thus preventing spread of the infection in a patient. If given very early, it may also dampen the immune response. A combination of at least 2 monoclonals can lower the chance of mutant escapees. This will not diminish the importance of treating the immune hyper-reaction that will certainly still happen in many patients.

Other topics for future discussion

The legal system has become a business for the rich and powerful

My experience with the U.S. patent system has made me conclude that it is not about the law and the constitution. It is all about how much money you have and how many lawyers you can hire. If a party has deep enough pockets, they can often bankrupt their opponents.

As the CEO of Voip-Pal, we have been engaged in tough legal battles over the past four years fighting Apple, Amazon, Google, Facebook, Twitter, AT&T and Verizon. We will never give up our fight and fold. We will continue to fight these battles to the bitter end, we will prevail. I believe the majority of judges are independent and will not let themselves be intimidated by the massive power of the Silicon Valley.

Artificial Intelligence; Watson by IBM

Artificial intelligence (AI) is here to stay and is becoming more widespread each day. It may soon become the tool needed to speed up litigation and provide clarity to the often contradictory and corrupt patent system in the United States and Europe. Unfortunately, owning a U.S. patent today can be meaningless. It is no longer an asset but a liability.

President Abdel Fattah El-Sisi of Egypt

As a proud Egyptian, the reason I am supporting Egypt's president is very simple, if Egypt falls the Middle East will become another Libya. By Europe and the United States supporting President Al-Sisi they are fighting terrorism in all its violent forms. President El-Sisi cares for the Egyptian people and wants to make them prosperous.

As I have said before, I have no personal interests. I left Egypt more than 50 years ago, but I just want to see the Egyptian people live in peace and prosperity and my president seems to truly care for our people. It is vital that the Egyptian President assure that Egypt is safe internally. Securing safety will bring tourism back to the country. It's a tough job that requires a tough man like Abdel Fattah-El Sisi.

El Sisi City

As a visionary, I would like to request that the Egyptian President build a new city for the very poor Egyptian citizens. Egypt has excellent military builders. They can design a prefabricated city for the millions of poor Egyptians with technical colleges to teach trades and professions to lift them out of poverty. Teach them how to be plumbers, carpenters, welders, electricians, metal workers etc. Learning a trade will give people hope and provide a way for them to become self-sufficient and feel good about themselves.

Palestinian leaders prefer war

I fully support Prince Bandar Bin Abdelaziz's criticism of the Palestinian leadership. Thousands of Egyptians and Arabs have lost billions of dollars fighting corrupt Palestinian leadership. President Gamal Abdel Nasser made Egyptians believe they are Arabs, getting them to wage war against Israel based on trumped up emotions and bravado.

A leader's duty primarily is to improve the lives of his people, not to worry about his neighbours. President Anwar Sadat was smart enough to recognize that fighting Israel does not benefit the Egyptian people.

I remember my father telling me when Gamal Abdel Nasser took over that he would bankrupt and destroy Egypt's wealth. My father was 100% correct. Abdel Nasser took Egypt down in every measurable way possible. Egypt was a wealthy country under King Farouk. Abdel Nasser waged and lost wars, wars, and more wars which had nothing to do with the Egyptian people. Imagine how wealthy Egypt would be today without all these wars?

It is time for Arab states to wake up and dump these Palestinian leaders who only care for how much money they can steal, and that includes Yasser Arafat (Abu Ammar), the former Palestinian leader.

I feel sorry for the great Palestinian people who are still suffering under corrupt self-serving governments, Fatah, and Hamas. I commend President Trump in getting the UAE and Bahrain to sign a peace treaty with Israel. I hope Saudi Arabia and other Arab countries will follow their lead.

<https://www.gatestoneinstitute.org/16555/palestinians-advice-arabs>

Egyptian people are not Arabs

The Egyptian people are not 100% Arab; only 17% of Egyptians are Arab while 68% of the indigenous population is from North Africa and 4% are of Jewish ancestry. Others include Pharaohs (great house) descendants, Asian, and European etc. DNA examined 10 years ago by the National Geographic Genographic Project (NGGP) confirmed these findings. Egypt's name was derived from the ancient capital of Memphis.
